

SEE IMPACT AREA SIX

Education

Africa has the world's youngest population. The region's prosperity depends on all her people having access to quality education, skills training and lifelong learning opportunities. But sub-Saharan Africa has the highest rates of education exclusion globally. About 77% of children are enrolled in primary school on average. However, about a third of children between the ages of 12 and 14 are not in school, and over half of sub-Saharan Africa's children aged 15 to 17 are not in school.
